Coronation Tonight Launches Fair Activities

GETTING READY FOR THE SHOW — Wayne Cowdery curls the dark red coat of this Hereford calf while Eloise McGowan and Bob Belt watch his every movement closely. All are members of the Lucky Leaf Livestock Club and will show the calves at the Fair.

Weatherman Isn't Cooperating! But Big Show To Open on Schedule

Fair Week began here today under dripping gray clouds which admittedly made for a dismal outlook—not only for the Junior Show lifter Tuesday night but for the Parade of Queens at 7 p. m. Monday and the coronation ceremony at Gardner Park an hour later.

However, the 12 directors who have spent a year planning the annual agricultural and entertainment extravaganza for Fayette County and the hundreds of exhibitors and concessionaires had their fingers crossed and were hoping for a break in the weather. They all have too much at stake to give up easily.

But the weather forecast held little encouragement. The next five days, it said, will average about 5 degrees below normal and there will be scattered showers.

REGARDLESS of the rain and soggy ground under foot, the Fairground was the scene of bustling activity Sunday.

Many of the concession tents were set up and several of the midway attractions were pulled in and unloaded. Scores of house trailers were parked in the areas reserved for them.

Meanwhile, the first of the trotters and pacers for the four days of harness horse racing were placed in the barns. More were coming in Monday and still more are expected Tuesday.

Regardless of the gray clouds and drizzle, plans for the coronation of the Fair Queen tonight were being followed out. The coronation ceremonies will be held at Gardner Park at 8 p. m. unless there is a downpour. A parade, headed by the Washington C. H. High School Band and including the 10 candidates for the Queen in convertibles will leave Market and Main Sts. about 7 p. m., and go through the city to the park at Main St. and Circle Ave. In case of a heavy rain, the coronation will be held in the Armory.

The weather holds the key to the Fair this year. This is the consensus of everyone; for, not in a long time, has there been so much of everything rainy.

The Junior Fair exhibit entries were more numerous than last year and so were reservations for commercial displays. The outlook for the race program is considered unusually good, from the point of view of both numbers and quality of horses.

IF THOSE interested in the Fair have their worries over the weather, so have the county's farmers, who are still trying to get their wheat and oats harvested.

They should have their grain in the granaries by now, but rain has kept their combines out of the fields, except for brief sorties, for nearly two weeks.

Should the weather clear up this week, probably many of them

wouldn't take time out to go to the Fair.

Usually wheat harvest is in full swing by July 4, but liberal estimates are that 90 per cent of the wheat is still standing. Oats, which are usually ready for harvest a week or so later, are now in the same wet predicament as the wheat.

Rain has fallen on 13 of the first 21 days of July. Precipitation recorded Sunday by U. S. Weather Observer Coyt Stookey here was .47 of an inch and on Monday .22 of an inch—a total of .67 for the last 48 hours. This brought the total for July to date up to 4.30 inches. Normal for the entire month is 3.74 inches.

Board Rejects $15,550 Bid For Old Eastside Property

The Washington C. H. Board of Education rejected a bid of $15,500 for the old Eastside School property Columbus Ave. and Willard St. Saturday afternoon.

While a number of interested people gathered at the door of the old school at the advertised time of 2 p. m. there were only two bidders.

The high offer was made by Richard S. Waters, 736 Washington Ave., The bidding started at $5,000.

Board members feel that the property would bring nearly double that price if it could be rezoned for commercial purposes and quoted Harry R. Roth, Columbus real estate developer, as saying that he would pay a minimum of $30,000 for the 1.8 acre tract if it could be rezoned for a super market.

The city's Zoning Board of Appeals early last week had rejected three petitions for commercial zoning after more than 25 property owners in the area registered either written or verbal protests at a hearing.

THE PROPERTY, which includes the old brick Eastside grade building which is being replaced by a modern school structure five blocks to the east at Willard and Elm Sts., remains in the special "school" classification as a result of the zoning board's action.

While the board regarded Roth's offer at a board meeting following the auction as bonafide, it felt that it could not legally accept a "contingency" bid.

The property probably will be readvertised, and it is the board's understanding that if the price offered is regarded as unacceptable the board may dispose of it at private sale on a contingency basis.

The board may enter a new request for commercial zoning, or other interested parties may ask that the area be rezoned for residential use.

U. S. Points To Atomic 'Capabilities'

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — The United States brought the menacing words "atomic capability" into the Middle Eastern crisis today.

A U. S. spokesman said all ground, air and sea combat units have atomic capability. He specifically avoided saying whether the 6,300 Marines here have atomic warheads in Lebanon.

U. S. Marines joined Lebanese army patrols which could bring them in contact with rebels.

These developments came as President Nasser of the Syrian-Egyptian United Arab Republic and Soviet Premier Khrushchev weighed results of their latest diplomatic moves.

Nasser, it was reported by Cairo news agencies, met with the rich ruling Sheikh of Kuwait in Damascus Sunday. Kuwait, a British protectorate, is on the Persian Gulf close to Iraq, and supplies half of Britain's oil. It is the leading oil producer in the Middle East.

Khrushchev proposed over the weekend a five-power summit conference to talk over the Middle East crisis.

The United States also took steps to inform Lebanese of the reasons for the presence of American troops in Lebanon.

A U. S. Embassy spokesman said a million leaflets in Arabic were dropped from one end of Lebanon to the other, and assured the Lebanese the Americans would leave as soon as the United Nations has taken measures assuring the independence of Lebanon.

A Navy spokesman disclosed at a U. S. Embassy briefing that U. S. forces have come equipped with the necessary weapons to use atomic power.

"All combat units, including ground, air and sea have atomic capability," he said.

"Any further discussion is a matter of security," he added.

He did not say the Marines had brought atomic warheads, but the implication seemed clear. The Marines have landed four 8-inch howitzers which are capable of shooting an atomic shell about 11 miles.

The adding of Marines to Lebanese army patrols was described by U. S. briefing officers as an effort to improve liaison with Lebanese army forces in an effort to halt sniping at aircraft and Marine guards.

At least six military transports have been hit. No injuries have resulted. The flight path into Beirut airport takes planes over rebel territory.

Jordan has made a complete diplomatic break with Nasser's U. A. R. The Foreign Ministry in Amman announced the break at the same time King Hussein's government received a 12½-million-dollar shot in the arm from the United States to aid its over economic crisis.

Iraqi Colonel Ousts Envoy From Embassy in London

LONDON (AP) — A smartly dressed Iraqi colonel staged a polite and smiling coup here today. He ousted his ambassador and top aides and set up a minor diplomat as temporary head of the Iraqi mission to Britain.

Col. Abdul Kadir Faik, mustached 35-year-old graduate of a British military staff college, appeared at a news conference to announce that the onetime ambassador of the Kingdom of Iraq is now the Embassy of the republic.

"The ambassador and minister do not hold their positions now," he explained.

The colonel said he had conferred by telephone today with Brig. Abdul Karim Kassem, Premier of the new Iraqi regime, and received his instructions.

Col. Faik brushed aside references to the ambassador, Prince Al-Amir Zeid ibn Al-Hussein, great uncle of the slain King Faisal and now sole surviving member of the

Beirut is Gay in Daytime, But Is Grim in Darkness

By RELMAN MORIN

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — A starshell blazes suddenly in the night sky and hangs there bathing the hills outside Beirut in a pale unearthly light—the U. S. Marines are hunting snipers above the airfield.

Coming into the city, you pass through that eternal symbol of danger after dark — a sandbag roadblock bristling with tommy guns.

The streets are completely deserted, but along the docks you see all the massive clanking machinery of war—gray-hulled warships, tanks, guns, mortars and rockets, mountains of equipment piled behind barbed wire stockades under the glare of powerful searchlights.

By night it all looks painfully familiar, the grim trappings of war.

But by day you might as well be in Atlantic City or Long Beach, Calif.

Bikinis blossom on the beaches. The white sails of pleasure craft glitter on the sea.

"Hey, sarge, when are we going swimming?" asks a Marine in a mortar position.

You want to visit the Lebanese rebels who have brought all this about? All you have to do is walk up the street to that sandbag barricade. They are watching government buildings from there.

Or if you want, you can pick up the telephone and talk with their leaders.

Why don't government forces walk up the street and clean them out? They have armored cars parked nearby and the Lebanese security forces look tough. So why not wrap this thing up and get it over with?

Well, that's a good question. But nobody seems to have the answer.

It is lost in the inextricable tangle of politics here, where there seem to be no sharp lines or clear divisions between the various factions.

In short, Beirut today is a perfect symbol of war that is not a war and peace that certainly is not peace.

It would be faintly ridiculous except for two facts:

First, like events through the whole Moslem world—Iraq, Syria, Egypt, Morocco, Tunis, Algeria—this is Arab nationalism fanned by Gamal Abdel Nasser into rebellion against the established order.

Second, it looks very much as though the United States is in the position of a man beating a pillow.

All the military force can do here is drive the revolutionaries underground. They might disperse for the time being. But as soon as the pressure goes off they would start over again.

"There are Marine positions all over the place here," said a sergeant who fought in both World War II and Korea. "They can't see anything and they aren't fighting anybody. They're sitting around with nothing to do. How long are they going to keep us here?"

That in fact is the very heart of the question. The United States and Britain have taken action in the Mideast and perhaps somehow the situation will stabilize itself so the troops can be withdrawn.

But the incredible contradictions of a war that isn't a war and a peace that isn't a peace multiply on every hand. And the strident almost screaming voice of Gamal Abdel Nasser comes regularly over the radio, inflaming Arab feelings.

The situation is not going to get better very soon and it may take an irreparable turn for the worse.

Japan Seeks West's OK on Her U. N. Plan

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — Japan counted on Western support today as she went to the U. N. Security Council with a plan to expand operations of the U. N. observer group in Lebanon so U. S. Marines could be withdrawn.

Some diplomats believed the Soviet Union, intent on getting a special session of the General Assembly in which to attack the West, would veto Japan's proposal.

The council scheduled a mid-afternoon session but there was no indication when a vote would come on the Japanese resolution. If it failed, the Council then could take up U. S. and Soviet resolutions calling for an emergency assembly session on the Middle East crisis.

The Japanese resolution would ask the U. N. observation group in Lebanon to "develop its activities" aimed at insuring against illegal infiltration of arms and men from the United Arab Republic to the Lebanese rebels.

It also would have the Council ask U. N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold to arrange such additional measures as he may consider necessary to prevent aid from reaching the rebels and to "insure the territorial integrity and political independence of Lebanon, so as to make possible the withdrawal of U. S. forces from Lebanon."

British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd, leaving New York for London late Sunday, told newsmen Britain would vote for the Japanese resolution. A source close to the Japanese delegation said the United States would too.

The United States in pressing its own resolution to authorize a U. N. emergency force for Lebanon had promised to withdraw its Marines when the U. N. troops took over. The Soviets vetoed the American proposal Friday, and the Council majority voted down a Soviet demand for immediate withdrawal of the American forces from Lebanon and British troops from Jordan.

Japanese Reds Holding Powwow

TOKYO (AP) — The Japanese Communist party's first national convention in 11 years got under way here today to discuss ways and means of injecting fresh life into the lagging organization.

About 500 delegates attended the opening of the 10-day session. They are expected to try to unify party factions, establish a new party platform and elect new Central Executive Committee members.

She'd Be Lovesick, But Not Seasick

LONDON (AP) — Teresa Scott, 22, slipped aboard the trawler Eirocan to be with the man she is to marry, deckhand Bert Reid.

For four days she hid below decks until the sea got too much for her. Green-faced, Teresa gave up to skipper Bill Arnold. He put her ashore. The Eirocan docks Tuesday at Grimsby and that night Teresa and Bert will be together again—on dry land.

Each colonel echoed "100 per cent."

U. S. Prefers U. N. Handle Mideast Crisis

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House announced today the United States, Britain and France have started drafting a reply to the Khrushchev proposal for an emergency summit conference on the Middle East.

The United States, it was learned, has proposed to Britain and France a draft which would definitely turn down the Soviet Premier's call for an immediate meeting outside the United Nations, and would keep Middle East diplomacy concentrated in the U. N. Security Council.

The U. S. version would counter the sensational Soviet move of last Saturday with a proposal that Khrushchev take to the Security Council his charge that the United States and Britain endangered peace by putting troops into Lebanon and Jordan.

Britain and France were reported in agreement with the United States on this general line of approach. There appeared to be some difference, at least of emphasis, between Washington and the two European capitals on how hard to plug the idea of an early summit conference. The British government is under heavy pressure from its Labor party opposition to get into a summit meeting.

Here are the day's top developments:

1. LONDON — Prime Minister Macmillan told the House of Commons that the United States and its allies are urgently considering the best means by which to arrange for a meeting which heads of government could attend.

2. PARIS — Premier de Gaulle issued a statement saying he welcomed the Soviet offers of a summit conference but felt Khrushchev's un diplomatic tone in making the offer was an obstacle.

3. WASHINGTON — White House press secretary James C. Hagerty said consultations among the allies have started and a U. S. draft reply is in the hands of the other major powers. Until these consultations end, Hagerty said, he would have nothing to say about a summit meeting. He said he did not expect the U. S. answer could be sent to Moscow today.

Premier Khrushchev asked for a five-power meeting, including India, in Geneva, Switzerland, on Tuesday.

Administrative leaders took the view that it was essentially a propaganda maneuver—such an early meeting being out of the question—but they ruefully admitted that it was a maneuver of force and imagination. Washington has not been able to produce such during this crisis. So far, the

U. S. Marines Said Bored And Puzzled

BEIRUT (AP) — For the U.S. Marines the Lebanese situation is "strictly no sweat."

By and large they are hot, bored — and puzzled.

Most have only a vague idea why they are here.

Perhaps the best summation of the Marines' attitude came from Platoon Sgt. Clarence Kelly of Carlisle, Pa. "Saipan, Iwo Jima and Korea—and now this," he observed with the resigned shrug of a man to whom the fates have not been kind.

Where else are the front lines marked with a rope across a street?

All over Beirut you can find people picnicking, swimming or just sitting and gossiping. The only truly busy people are the marines.

Like combatwise veterans, many of them are working like mad, improving positions, as if they expected an attack almost any minute.

The worst enemy the Americans have encountered so far has been the mosquitoes.

Cpl. Kenneth B. Tucker, Melrose, Mass., insists he saw one fly by carrying an 81mm. mortar tube.

"If we can catch a few and train them, we'll use them for sentries," he said.

But it's still the most luxurious war the Marines have ever attended. They even have ice delivered to outposts to cool drinking water.

The men themselves admit they never had it so good.

U. S. Prefers

West has been losing the public opinion battle in much of the world.

Khrushchev appeared to be vulnerable to counterattack on only one point. He proposed to by-pass the United Nations.

Secretary of State Dulles and British Foreign Minister Selwyn Lloyd agreed they would use the U.N. approach for a counterproposal and suggest the possibility of a high-level meeting of the Security Council. There seems to be no doubt that in the Eisenhower administration's view the level would be high enough if the meeting — assuming the Soviets followed up the Western suggestion — was a meeting of foreign ministers.

The United States might even be compelled to go along with a firm proposal for a summit meeting of the Security Council in the future but officials said this was not the wording or purpose of the draft reply put into the consultation with Britain and France.

The U.S. draft, Hagerty said, was sent to the other nations Sunday night through their ambassadors.

And he said that until the consultations end he will have nothing further to say about the possibility of a summit conference.

Hagerty said that after the consultations among the Western countries are completed President Eisenhower will make a direct reply to Khrushchev.

President Eisenhower met with his top diplomatic and military advisers in an extraordinary Sunday afternoon session to consider what the United States should do about Khrushchev's move.

The Soviet Premier had sent notes to the leaders of the United States, Britain, France and India calling for a summit conference at Geneva Tuesday or any other time. He expressed willingness if necessary to meet in Washington.

He accused this country and Britain of committing aggression by sending troops into Lebanon and Jordan and declared they had gravely endangered the peace.

The sensational Soviet gambit, authorities here said, put the two Western Powers in a bad spot before world public opinion, already alarmed over the possibilities of war in the Middle East.

Lloyd Cites U.N. Role in Mideast

LONDON (AP)—Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd returned from his Middle East talks in Washington today and said the United Nations should deal with the troubles in Iraq and Lebanon.

Although he did not rule out a summit meeting, as proposed by Soviet Premier Khrushchev, Lloyd told newsmen at London airport: "I do not think that we object to high-level talks in the appropriate forum at any time, but at the present the United Nations is the body which I think ought to solve this matter."

Navy Balloon Plans To Loft TV Camera

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — The Navy sent a balloon and scientific equipment up 130,000 feet for cosmic ray data Sunday and plans to put two veteran space explorers, 10,000 insects and a television camera 16 miles over the earth later this week.

An altitude record for film recording plastic balloons was set by the one launched here with a 225-pound cargo of cosmic ray research equipment.

The instruments, however, were jettisoned to earth and have not been found. Near Forsyth, Mont., the load was automatically released and dropped by parachute. A spotting plane traced the orange and white chute down to 10,000 feet, then lost it in a haze.

Representatives of the Office of Naval Research and General Mills Inc., builder of the plastic bag, searched ranch land for the valuable, specially prepared film plates.

Prof. Marcel Schein of the University of Chicago, a cosponsor of the ONR flight, said the film record from 130,000 feet could constitute a milestone in cosmic ray study—if the equipment is recovered.

Weather permitting, the manned flight will be launched Wednesday from a deep, open pit iron mine near Crosby, Minn. The plan is for Navy Cmdr. Malcolm D. Ross and M. Lee Lewis, a former Navy balloonist, to spend about 24 hours in a sealed, aluminum gondola lofted to an altitude of 80,000 to 84,000 feet, just short of the record they set last fall for two men.

The huge, gas-filled bag also will carry a small television camera. TV signals will be transmitted back to earth and relayed over a nationwide television network.

U. S. Budget Goes Deeper Into Deficit

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government said today the national budget was in the red by $2,813,000,000 at the end of the fiscal year last June 30.

Secretary of the Treasury Anderson and Budget Director Maurice H. Stans made the announcement in a joint statement based on preliminary reports still subject to revision.

The deficit was recorded after two fiscal years in which the government's budget books were in the black.

As recently as last January, President Eisenhower estimated the budget for the 1958 fiscal year ended June 30 would be in the red by only 400 million dollars.

Receipts during the fiscal year totaled $69,100,000,000, down nearly two billion dollars from fiscal 1957. The drop was caused largely by the recession slump in earnings of businesses and individuals.

Budget spending during the 12 months total $71,900,000,000, an increase of 24 billion dollars over the previous fiscal year.

Spending was boosted by post-sputnik emphasis on defense, recessions programs and later outlays under the farm price support program.

For the new fiscal year which began July 1, officials are estimating a budget deficit of 10 to 12 billion dollars.

Drunk Driver Fined, Jailed

Traffic cases dominated an unusually light Municipal Court docket Monday.

Peter Withers, 35, Grove City was arrested by Deputy Sheriff Charles Hays Sunday morning on the CCC Highway near Jasper Mills and charged with driving while intoxicated. Pleading guilty, Withers was fined $200 and costs, sentenced to three days in jail, and had his driver's license suspended for one year.

Charles Clifford Fields, 39, Columbus, pleaded guilty to reckless operation—and was fined $10 and costs. Fields was arrested by the Ohio State Patrol on July 12 when his car was found by the patrol lying on its left side on Route 62 at Stafford Rd. He had left the scene with a passenger to have injuries treated at the office of a physician in Washington C. H.

Nelson L. Ford, 40, Greenfield, pleading guilty to speeding, was fined $5 and costs. Burgett H. Riley, 46, of 1123 Gregg St. of Raleigh, was fined $20 on a charge of failure to yield right of way. Lester Houston, 48, Morrow, forfeited $20 bond on a charge of reckless operation.

Bonds forfeited on speeding charges were by William F. Patterson, 22, Dayton, $20; Hubert C. Oliver, 40, Owensburg, Ky., $30; Floyd D. Robbins, 56, Hannibal, $10; and Robert A. Boyd, 31, New Lexington, $20.

U. S. Points

nomic hurdles in the present crisis.

Nasser had returned to Cairo after a diplomatic expedition that took him to Yugoslavia, the Soviet Union and Syria.

Some 1,400 more American troops landed in Beirut, bringing the total in Lebanon to about 9,400. The new arrivals brought in the first heavy artillery as well as cooks, supply and maintenance men that indicated the United States might be getting ready for a long stay.

The troops were troubled by minor harassment but here were no casualties. Pro-Nasser rebel snipers took potshots at U. S. Marines guarding strategic spots in Beirut and the Marines fired back. The rebels also aimed small arms fire at planes. A soda bottle filled with gasoline and rigged with a timing device was left with one Marine unit and exploded, but no one was hurt.

"Our biggest problem at the moment is keeping our Lebanese kids who want to sell the troops soft drinks," said an Army spokesman.

Robert Murphy, U.S. deputy undersecretary of state sent by President Eisenhower to help work out a political solution to the Lebanese crisis, called on Paul Meouchi, pro-rebel patriarch of the Maronite Christian Church.

Murphy refused to indicate what was discussed, but the call indicated he was making contact with pro-Western President Camille Chamoun's opposition. Rebel leaders had made no move to contact U.S. officials on the ground that their country's crisis is purely an internal matter.

Nasser's recognition of the new regime in Iraq touched off the final break with Jordan. King Hussein, the junior partner in Jordan's federation with Iraq, has claimed the federation still exists with him as head of Jordan as well as Iraq. King Faisal, Hussein's cousin, was killed during the Iraqi coup, and the Iraqi rebel government has denounced the tie with Jordan.

Premier Sees Sightseers Invade Home

LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Macmillan was grappling with the problems of summertime Sunday when 2,000 sightseers invaded his stately Sussex home.

They took over his study. He retreated to a second-story bedroom.

They chattered on the terrace beneath his open windows. He told a servant to close them.

Finally, when he came down to meet the visitors, he locked himself out of his own house.

Long before the Middle East crisis, Macmillan had announced that on July 20 he would throw open Birch Grove, his Georgian country home, at a shilling (14 cents) a head in aid of charity. He didn't realize it was going to be such a busy weekend.

He made only a nine-minute "show the flag" appearance. He strode out of the front door and rounded the house almost at the double.

He was halfway past the rose beds before the first cheers died away. The crowd scrambled in hot pursuit, panting and shouting. A 10-year-old American tourist, Susie Bezdek of Springfield, Mass., gasped: "Gee, that man sure can hustle!"

At the back door the Prime Minister found he's forgotten his key. Looking slightly embarrassed he carried on round to the front door and sprinted into the house.

Twenty minutes later he was on his way to the peace of No. 10 Downing St., his official London residence.

Deaths and Funerals

Funeral Wednesday For Miss Koonce

Services for Miss Judith E. Koonce, 22, of Cleveland, who drowned in the Little Miami River last Thursday in an attempt to rescue a little girl, will be held at 2 p. m. Wednesday in the chapel in Sunset Memorial Park, Cleveland, friends here learned Monday.

Friends may call at the Corrigan Funeral Home, W. 148th St. and Lorain Ave., Cleveland, after 7 p. m. Monday until 10 a. m. Wednesday.

Miss Koonce's body was found shortly before noon Sunday, ending a 73-hour search by 30 groups of volunteers, about 250 feet from where she plunged into the river in her fatal rescue effort.

Miss Koonce, a counselor at Camp Clifton, near Yellow Springs, jumped into the river to try to save Kyrielle Ruhle, 11, of Lakeview (Logan County) after she had fallen from the rim of the river gorge to the water 90 feet below. The little girl's body was found several hours later 1,500 feet downstream.

The accident happened while Miss Koonce was taking a group of about 40 girls from the 4-H camp on a hike along the rim of the gorge.

Miss Koonce was well known among the Fayette County 4-H boys and girls and women who have been on outings at Camp Clifton for the last three years. She was both a counselor and instructor in conservation.

Steels, Oils Pace Advance Of Stocks

NEW YORK (AP)—Steels and oils were in the fore as the stock market advanced briskly early this afternoon.

Leading issues were up from fractions to a point or so. Some selected issues made wider gains.

Once again the market was pushing into new high ground for the year. Some chemicals, rails, aircrafts, rubbers and nonferrous metals joined in the rise but there was a scattering of losers.

Uncertainty as to whether the weekend might bring a heightened war scare was now water over the dam. Meanwhile it was reported that steel buying for 1959 cars is picking up.

The international oils recovered some of their losses of last week as prospects for their big resources in the Middle East no longer appeared in grave, immediate peril.

U. S. Steel, Lukens and Republic Steel rose more than a point each. Youngstown Sheet added about two. Union Carbide advanced well over three.

Gulf Oil was ahead a point or so. Similar gains were made by such international oils as Texas Co., Royal Dutch and Getty. Amcra rose about a point.

Chrysler stood out in the automotive group, heading a gain of about a point.

Goodrich advanced about two points and U.S. Rubber about a point.

U.S. government bonds continued to rally briskly.

Ex-Contract Aide Raps Adams Move

WASHINGTON (AP)—A former government contract review official said today he felt presidential assistant Sherman Adams made an improper inquiry in behalf of a New England textile firm.

The company, the now defunct Raylaine Worsted, Inc., subsequently won an award of $41,284 from the government when a $49,784 penalty for late delivery of fabric for Army uniforms was cut to $8,500.

Roswell M. Austin retired member of the Armed Services Board of Contract Appeals, told newsmen that Adams and an unnamed member of Congress acted to resurrect a case which the board had turned down earlier.

But he also said that neither Adams nor the congressman had any effect on the board.

Austin said his irritation at intercession by outside parties other than attorneys in the case caused him to send a memorandum to other members of the board.

The White House has said that Adams merely relayed inquiries and replies about the case.

Austin talked with newsmen after cooling his heels all morning outside a House Armed Services subcommittee which started a closed-door inquiry into the case.

County School Driver Exams Begin Monday

Standardized Testing Program Board-Approved

A new standardized program of physical examinations for school bus drivers and substitutes, adopted by the Fayette County Board of Education in the interests of pupil safety, will get under way Monday.

The board has designated Dr. Robert U. Anderson and Dr. Philip E. Binzel, with offices at 321 E. Court St., as official examiners, and costs of the program are being borne by the board rather than by the drivers who previously were examined by their personal physicians.

Both this week and next two drivers will report for examination Monday through Thursday nights at 8 p. m. and four on Friday at the same hour.

THE SCHEDULE will be resumed later in August until all of the 42 drivers and eight substitutes are examined. Drivers are being notified of their appointments by phone and by mail.

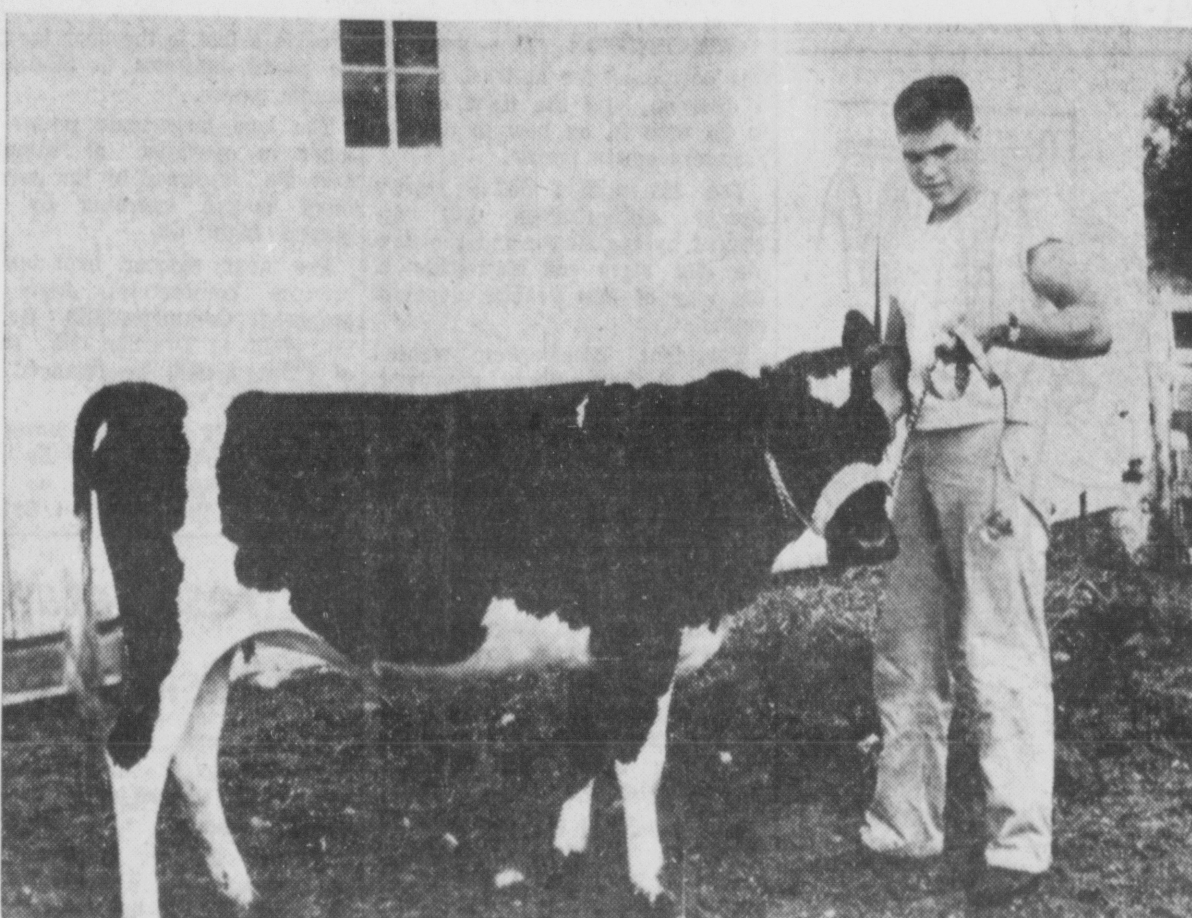

County Superintendent W. J. Hilty pointed out that the purpose of the new examination program is to take every possible precaution toward safety in pupil transportation, particularly in view of increased traffic and greater speed on highways.

"Most of our drivers are accident-free veterans, but we feel that every possible safety step should be taken," the superintendent said.

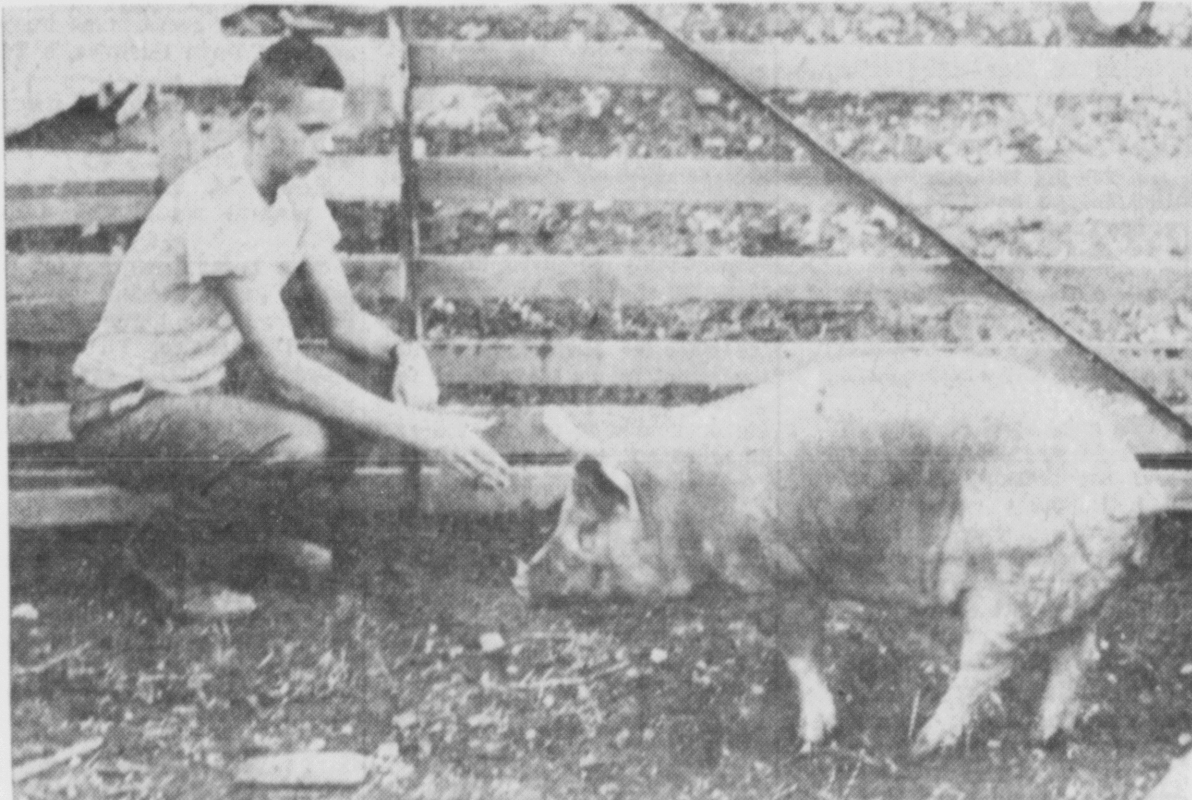

Examination forms and reports will be kept on file by two physicians who will report their findings and recommendations to school authorities. The latter will certify the qualified drivers.

The examination will include an approved "alertness" test.

Bernard Baruch, 88-year-old "elder statesman," once said, "To me, old age is always 15 years older than I am."

Times-Star Sells Out to Scripps Chain

CINCINNATI (AP)—The Cincinnati Times-Star, a daily newspaper with roots that go back nearly 120 years, has published for the last time.

The E. W. Scripps Co. bought the afternoon newspaper Sunday and merged it with its competitor, the Cincinnati Post.

The combined paper, to be called the Cincinnati Post-Times Star, will publish for the first time today.

Purchase price was not disclosed. The move gives Scripps—parent firm of Scripps-Howard Newspapers—full control of daily newspapers here.

Scripps two years ago acquired, through stock purchases, control of the Cincinnati Enquirer, only morning newspaper here.

Robert H. Ferger, publisher of the Enquirer, said, "The two papers will operate separately and independently, both editorially and in the business office, as the Enquirer has in the past."

David S. Ingalls, publisher of the Times-Star, sent telegrams to each of 649 employees saying their jobs had ended as of Saturday.

Ingalls said in a statement that the Times-Star had steadily increasing losses since 1952 "to a point where losses for the fiscal year-ended March 31, 1958, were over one million dollars."

Friday, August 1st is the final day applications for participation in the Community Chest will be accepted. Applications are welcomed from any accredited health, welfare or character-building organization.

Today's Collegians Curtail Disapproval of Immorality

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A survey of today's college students discloses they show less disapproval of immoral acts connected with sex than any of their predecessors of the past three decades.

The study just completed by two psychiatric researchers at Ohio State University here shows for instance, that:

A man's desertion of an unwed mother, which students of the past 30 years ranked high among the "top 10 sins" of our time, has now been relegated to last place on that list.

Today's students, while still condemning premarital sex relations and adultery, do so less strongly than their predecessors.

However, divorce for incompatibility, where no children are involved, was acceptable to many students of 1929 and 1939, yet it is meeting with growing rejection today.

Similarly, disbelief in God was never strongly condemned by the surveyed students of previous decades. What disapproval there was reached a low in 1939, but is now rising.

"Perhaps the most important finding of this study," said its co-directors, Drs. Salomon Rettig and Benjamin Pasamanick, "is the great lack of stability of many moral values" and their apparent change with economic and political changes.

They note that 1939 students represent the parents of today's undergraduates - yet the responses of both groups differ.

"Either parents aren't getting across their values to their children or the parents have changed, too," said Dr. Pasamanick.

The two researchers are interested, too, in the conflicting moral judgments represented in the student replies.

"The least we can do is point them out," they said, "and make people think about them."

Their findings were drawn from anonymous responses to a 50-item questionnaire by nearly 500 undergraduates - 204 men and 283 women.

Student ratings of moral acts or specified situations, in degree of "rightness or wrongness," were then compared with studies of three previous decades at other Midwestern schools.

Students of all the decades surveyed, with the exception of a 1939 study, regard kidnapping and hit skip driving, respectively, as the two worst moral sins.

Showing the most consistent increase in moral condemnation over the period are suicide and "a doctor allowing a badly deformed baby to die."

The scientists see this as a growing value for the sanctity of individual life.

Some Are Demanding More Positive Action

There are probably many Americans, doubtless including some people in Fayette County, who are somewhat sympathetic toward the action of a New York businessman, Lyle Munson. The latter recently gained considerable publicity by asking Congress for permission to outfit a private army which would take action where necessary to liberate U. S. service men and civilians being held captive in foreign lands.

This sounds like a wild scheme and even the originator of it has little thought that Congress will endorse it.

Lyle is greatly upset and the idea of taking reprisal action against Castro the revolutionary leader in Cuba, and other revolutionary organizations such as in Indonesia and against the Communists in East Berlin and in China, may seem reasonable to him and others who think our own government is moving too slowly in these matters.

Lyle indicates he is inclined to object to any American citizens being held, illegally he believes, where there is no criminal charge against them.

Of course, to many people it does appear somewhat ironical that the United States, the most powerful country in the world, must take ample time to weigh certain calculated risks in insuring the safety of its nationals abroad.

Even President Eisenhower was criticized to some extent, both at home and in some places abroad, for having alerted U. S. military units for a possible rescue of Vice President Nixon from South and Central American mobs.

There are some who protest our government attitude because the Soviet government appeared without hesitation, to move foreign troops under its control into Hungary to suppress a freedom uprising while the United States seemed to fear criticism because we moved a small force of Marines in a warning protection move to insure the safety of a high U. S. official from mobs while on his goodwill tour. They also argue we are too slow to use troops to free American citizens, either kidnaped by rebel bandits or gangster governments.

Sober-minded citizens, however, who recognize the slim margin between war and the present uneasy peace, insist that it should be obvious to all concerned that the position of the United States is quite different from that of some irresponsible leader or marauder in world diplomacy and politics, whose position is not as permanent as that of our own government. They contend that the United States employs a policy of firmness, but restraint and should be recognized for its deep concern for peace and desire to extend international goodwill.

It should be remembered also that Americans are not being kidnaped to start a war but to achieve a certain political profit. East Germany has been trying to trade nine U. S. airmen, who through accident got into that country, for official diplomatic recognition by the United States. Castro, in Cuba, seems anxious to draw the attention of Washington D. C. to the desperate condition of his fight for "independence" of the people from the Batista control.

Probably our government is using wisdom in moving slowly in these matters. What we do may be less costly than a demand for immediate action backed with a movement of troops.

30 Hours Looking at Mirror

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (U)—Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

That someone has estimated women use more than 30 hours a year looking at mirrors and four hours a year powdering their nose. But no woman really counts this as lost time.

That America's annual fish harvest amounts to five billion pounds.

That when male twins reach the draft age in Argentina, only one is required to enter military service.

That Irwin H. Kramers of the Hotel Edison has his seasonal sign on his desk: "You won't complain so much about the hot weather if you are snowed under with work."

That if you want a new taste treat, here's an old Welsh recipe for preparing seaweed: "Boil gently, but do not overcook or else all the flavor will be lost. Mix with vinegar or lemon juice, a few drops of olive oil, pepper and salt, and serve cold on toast." After two servings of seaweed, your kids will be glad to eat spinach.

That some four million rugged Americans still take snuff. They include many women.

That the U. S. male is getting larger. A quarter century ago the average man wore a size 38 suit. Today a size 41 fits him a little tightly.

That doctors now can identify 47 different kinds of headaches.

That singer Sal Mineo isn't old enough to vote, but he's just bought a $200,000 house where he will live with his parents, two brothers and a sister. Sometimes it pays to give your kids music lessons.

That bread becomes stale because the starch in it crystallizes.

That drama school director Burt Lane points out: "A man becomes wise by watching what happens to him when he isn't."

That if a person hasn't been an alcoholic before 45, there is little danger he will become one after that age. One out of every six alcoholics is a woman.

That one thing elephants never forget is their jungle past. Even in captivity one elephant stays awake on guard while the rest of the herd sleep.

That Napoleon's favorite card game after his exile to St. Helena was solitaire.

That fewer than half of American housewives do all their food shopping at one store. The average wife trades at from two to four stores.

That 41 per cent of U. S. families now have dogs.

That you were probably born with 270 bones, but you'll die with only 206. The missing 64 merge with others during infancy.

That Kate Smith, who earned $30 million during 27 years of singing, never spoke until she was four years old. Probably because nobody made her a contract offer.

Politics in the Far West

By George Sokolsky

The Republican party in California is split into the Knight faction and the Knowland faction, but from the standpoint of Republican national politics, it is important that William Knowland should be elected governor of California.

If Knowland fails of election, it will affect the position of Vice President Nixon, for no candidate can be regarded as strong whose home state is uncertain.

The Republican leaders in Washington recognize that 1958 is a bad year but they are not willing to concede that 1960 is bound to be. The generally accepted candidate for 1960 is Vice President Richard Nixon and at present there is no other candidate.

Harold Stassen, who was troublesome for Nixon, has been finally eliminated by his defeat in the Pennsylvania primaries. William Knowland, who had the Taft basic strength in the party, cannot be nominated as long as Nixon is a candidate.

President Eisenhower is said to have hoped to make Gen. Gruenher his heir, but that is now beyond possibility. At one time, there was some talk of Sherman Adams and Dr. Milton Eisenhower, but there is none of that sort of conversation left.

By every process of elimination it is Nixon.

Sen. Knowland has still to wage his campaign and everything that a political party can put into a fight will go into electing him governor of California. It is an unthinkable political act that the present incumbent, "Goodie" Knight, will sabotage his party, although in California some very unthinkable things have been done over the years.

In Arizona, Barry Goldwater is running for reelection as United States Senator. Goldwater is the most constructive conservative the Senate has had in many years.

No die-hard reactionary, he stands for positive principles of American economy which he knows how to state understandingly and with courage. Goldwater has an advantage which is rarely to be found in the Senate, in that he is a retail merchant.

Most senators are lawyers and professional politicians. Goldwater is a department store owner and operator. He not only understands mass psychology but he has a firm grasp of the needs and wants and opinions of grass-roots folks.

He therefore brings to the Senate a closeness to the ordinary person upon the understanding of whom his private and public career depend.

The Republicans need Goldwater in the Senate, because he is an unwavering Republican who builds a record of ideas and principles with the sureness of a leader. His running quarrel with Walter Reuther has done the Republican party no harm and has made "The Right To Work" issue an important one for 1960.

In Nevada, Sen. George Malone comes up for reelection. Like Goldwater and Knowland, Malone comes out of a profession other than the law. Malone is a mining engineer and he has been successful in his profession.

Unaccustomed to the ways of politicians, he sometimes upsets the political apple cart by off-side remarks, but his record shows substantial work of an extraordinarily high quality, particularly when he is dealing with subjects to which an engineering mind may address itself with advantage.

His analysis of the American position in the economic world is probably the best that has been made anywhere and his report on our accessibility to raw materials reads like a textbook.

His questioning of witnesses before the Senate Finance Committee this session was a cute, understanding and far beyond the usual efforts of congressional committees to adduce information of a technical nature.

Just as it is important for the Republican party for Knowland to be elected governor and for Goldwater and Malone to be re-elected to the United States Senate, so will the Democratic party fight for their defeat. Therefore the campaigns in California, Arizona and Nevada are likely to be among the most bitter in the country.

While partisans in California on all the various sides are sure of the course of the battle and its ultimate result, those who do not live in California can only regard the outcome from the standpoint of national affairs and from that standpoint the defeat of these three stalwarts of the Republican party would be a calamity to it because these men represent the character of the party prior to 1952, which is what the voters are likely to be talking about in 1960.

For how will one make a distinction between the Republican and the Democratic parties?

Water Is Big Problem For Ohio River City

PORTSMOUTH, Ohio (U)—One of the biggest problems for firemen at the Gallia St. station here is, ironically, water.

It's in the station's goldfish pond and it creates a problem because of what goes into it. Firemen say the most frequent visitors are (1) high school students pushed in by companions, (2) cats trying to get the goldfish, and (3) larger—and hungrier—fish put in by pranksters.

Something in Common For These Children

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (U)—In a period of three months, Sharon Williams, 10, her sister, Diana, 11, and brother, Alan, 8, each had to be hustled to a hospital for an emergency appendectomy.

The Roy O. McWilliams family has no explanation for the one-month surgery since none of the children had any previous history of appendicitis.

Diet and Health Don't Be Showoff While in Swimming

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M. D.

SHOWING off in the water is one not-so-good way to lose your life.

Swimming is fine relaxation, it teaches coordination, it's healthful exercise. I strongly recommend it.

Can't Take Chances

But no one can swim well enough to take chances. Every year some 6,000 persons drown. Drownings are second only to traffic accidents as a cause of accidental deaths in the 5 to 44 age group. Most of these drownings could be prevented simply by using a little common sense.

Now I know most of you have heard these warnings before, but I don't think I can emphasize water precaution enough. So here they are again. Read them; they may save a life this summer.

Don't show off or tease other persons while in the water. Such horseplay is apt to end in tragedy.

Learn Early

Make sure that your children learn to swim at the earliest possible age. Urge them to join swimming classes conducted by the Red Cross, the Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, YMCA and YWCA or public schools.

Wait at least one hour—and

(© 1958, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

I mean an hour—after eating before going into the water.

Swim only in safe places and obey the lifeguard. Don't dive until you are sure the water is deep enough and free of dangerous rocks.

Stay Near Another

Don't overestimate your skill or strength. Always try to have another swimmer nearby.

Stay out of the water during storms.

One more word of caution: Should your boat upset, your best bet probably is to stay with it. Most rowboats and outboards will stay afloat even when capsized. Your chances of rescue are generally better if you cling to the craft rather than attempt to swim to shore.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

Mrs. S. S.: What causes chapped lips, and is there any cure for it?

Answer: Chapped lips are usually seen in nervous people who moisten and bite their lips excessively, and then expose the lips to cold winds.

A lack of vitamin B-2, or riboflavin, may be a contributing cause.

Chapping generally yields to some simple ointment, such as cold cream, unless a secondary infection has occurred.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

JAMES THURBER, visibly displeased with the way the world is going, announced the other day, "I often think it would be fine if the French poodles could take over. They've certainly been more intelligent in the last few years than human beings, and they have more charm, grace and humor, too. I broached the subject to my own poodle.

"How about your species running things for a while?" I asked. My poodle, however, who is positively brilliant, promptly answered, "The hell with it!"

Betty Primeau, in Ontario, Canada, reports this edifying conversation:

First girl: I have a new Lautree chemise.

Second girl: What's it like?

First girl: Toulouse....

A beautiful girl in Georgia was voted Miss Timber Queen at a recent ceremony. She claimed it was because she never had been axed.

You're Telling Me

By WILLIAM RITT

Lee Whitney, the only resident of Douglas, Ark., has finally moved away. We'd say Lee's got the right idea—a ghost town should be left strictly to the ghosts.

A London barber has installed shave-yourself booths equipped with electric razors in his shop. Business, we understand, is really buzzing!

An eastern town has just gotten over celebrating Burglary Prevention Week. Wonder where they stole that idea?

Police of Fort Royal, Uganda, Africa, are having no trouble at all in enforcing curfew laws these days. Lions have been coming in out of the jungle and wandering around the town's streets at night.

On his first attempt at playing golf an Illinois man shot a hole in one. He better quit now while he's ahead!

Another western gold rush is on. To hit pay dirt all a fellow need do is dash to a TV film studio and get a job as a cowboy actor.

Britain's Duke of Bedford announces he is going to open a motel on the grounds of his ancestral home to help pay off $14 million owed in inheritance taxes. Man, what rates he'll have to get!

The Nation Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congress has postponed for at least a year a decision, and the fight certain to go with it, on how to develop atomic electric power.

The 386 million dollar atomic energy authorization bill approved by the House and the Senate last week provides little in the way of new reactor development.

President Eisenhower wanted only half that amount approved. He protested, though not too vigorously, the bill drafted by the Democratic-controlled Senate House Atomic Energy Committee.

But the Atomic Energy Commission and Republican members of the committee raised little objection to the measure, and the bill sailed through Congress without a call in either house.

The ease of passage was in sharp contrast to the bitter bipartisan battles of the previous two years over atomic authorizations. It was deliberate.

Democratic members of the committee who want an ambitious long-term program at atomic reactor construction deliberately withheld their proposals this year to achieve a monetary truce.

They feel that with Rear Adm. Lewis L. Strauss no longer chairman of the AEC, the commission and Congress might have a better chance of getting together next year.

The basic question that arose shortly after World War II remains: Shall the government take the lead in development of atomic energy for power or shall the responsibility be given to private industry?

Democrats on the joint committee want the government to take the initiative on the ground that private industry is either unwilling or unable to expend the vast sums which would be required.

Republican committee members have expressed fears that government-financed development would provide a foot in the door for public power interests to take over atomic power.

The lone large-scale power reactor in operation, at Shippingport, Pa., is owned by the government though operated by Duquesne Light Co.

The next reactor expected to produce commercial power, a proposed Commonwealth Edison Co. plant at Dresden, Ill., south of Chicago, will be financed entirely by private funds.

The private vs. public power issue was voiced only briefly during the Senate debate on this year's bill. Sen. Leverett Saltonstall (R-Mass) proposed an amendment that would have prevented conversion of a government plutonium plant at Hanford, Wash., to generate electric power.

The amendment lost to the argument that any power produced would be used by the AEC installation itself.

Capitol Hill sources indicate the committee next year may come up with some kind of proposal for a long-range program of power reactor construction.

If it does, Congress will face another private vs. public power fight but may settle the issue once and for all.

Actress Betsy Palmer Shuns Enthusiasm about Hollywood

NEW YORK (AP)—Pretty Betsy Palmer is on, actress who won't chase the dogs to the Hollywood roundup.

"I will set here in New York and wait until the Western fad has worn itself out in television," said Miss Palmer happily.

And when Miss Palmer says sit, she means sit—on TV panel shows and TV game shows and filling in on occasion as women's editor of Dave Garroway's Today Show.

On July 30, Betsy will star in a live-from-New York Theatre Guild production.

Meanwhile, gamesmanship as its rewards not altogether financial.

"I've never been one of those parlor game fiends," says Miss Palmer. "As a matter of fact, if I had a choice, I'd rather sit around and talk. I was surprised when the 'I've Got a Secret' people called me to ask me to fill in the first time—I can't remember whether it was for Faye Emerson or Jayne Meadows."

Since then, Betsy has become an "I've Got a Secret" regular. Betsy has achieved stature as a gamesman and ad libber, and she has faith that, like measles, Westerns are bound to run their course. And television games-playing makes it possible for her to live in New York, where her husband is a successful obstetrician.

"I am very fond of my husband," says Betsy, "and it is very nice to be able to work and also be with him. Of course, if a very good film job came up, that would be different."

Meanwhile Miss Palmer and her husband have bought a big, old house just across the Hudson from New York and are launching an enormous remodeling job. So between serving as major domo of the housing project, playing games and acting, Betsy will have a busy, busy summer. And maybe, come fall, the last roundup of the Westerns will be approaching.

Gas Pipe Leak Found With Lighted Candle

CANTON, Ohio (U)—Firemen here say they have a sequel to the story of the guy who lit a match to see if his car's gas tank was empty.

An apartment-dweller lit a candle, they say, to see if a gas pipe was leaking. It was—but firemen confined the resulting fire to the kitchen, and shut off the gas before the uninjured tenant could try any more research.

Mideast Fuss May Bring Hike in Prices

Pressure for Higher
Tags Noted Before
East-West Hassle

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK (AP) — The brief early summer lull in the rise of the cost of living is being upset today by storm clouds building up in the Middle East.

Pressure for higher prices was rising even before Western troops moved into Asia Minor and the Russian Bear began to growl more loudly.

But the Middle East developments are acting like a booster shot. Tending toward the high road: Gasoline, tires, used cars, commuter fares, metals wool,
sugar and rubber.

Part of this is because speculators moved into the commodity futures markets, particularly in London, and ignoring the over supply of most materials bid up the prices of metals and grains.

Part of the upward price pressure is due to sober judgment of businessmen that sources of some raw materials might be shut off and distribution of others disturbed.

And this belief could lead many purchasing agents to take a second look at their inventory policies. For months stocks were being cut. Any chance toward building them up again could have a quick impact on prices.

Some consumer prices already were on the rise. Example: Gasoline prices wars were beginning to ebb. Prices of gasoline were firming in many sectors. The threat of disruption of the flow of oil from the Middle East with the implied strain, however temporary, on Western supplies, firmed the minds of oil executives. And last week wholesale gas price rises became commonplace. Talk that fuel oil prices would be next was wide spread.

Revived was the memory of the price rise in domestic crude oil that followed the closing of the Suez Canal and the spurt in Western Europe's need for our oil.

Domestic producers have moved quickly this time to reassure Americans of the adequacy of supplies here—although saying nothing of any possibility of a price rise.

They point out that domestic crude oil output now is about 6 1/2 million barrels a day, while producing capacity is 9 1/2 million barrels, and that at the March, 1957, peak of the Suez crisis, production here rose to 7 3/4 million barrels daily—thus presumably leaving safe room for maneuvering.

But consumers are facing other rising prices. Used cars have gone up, although new cars have been slow moving. The price of the forthcoming models is still in doubt, but Detroit says the chance to spend a lot extra on expensive accessories will be greater than ever.

A fire price boost, tied more to operating costs than to any threat to the natural rubber market could add still more to the cost of transportation. And already many commuter rail and bus fares are on the rise.

Copper prices, wobbling uncertainly for a time, have firmed quickly on the Middle East news.
Those who believe a hike in the price of steel and aluminum can be made to stick have new ammunition.

Carter field in Fort Worth for 2 1/2 hours while the FBI and police searched for the bomb.

Fair Midway Takes Form over Weekend

TWISTER COMING -- A featured ride that was at the Ohio State Fair last year and proved to be the most popular on the Midway will be at the Fair here. It is the Twister, one of the fastest and most thrilling of all Midway rides.

The Fayette County Fairground, which for months had been virtually deserted, was turned into a colorful panorama over the weekend as the vanguard of concessions and other attractions moved in in force.

More concessions and the agricultural and commercial exhibits will keep pouring in for the next 24 hours.

Along with them will come trucks and vans bringing in some of the best trotters and pacers in this area for the four days of harness horse racing.

FIRST to take on that real "Fair look" was the area between the main gate on Fairview Ave. and the grandstand—the Midway, that gaudy, bustling and raucous center of fun.

The major rides and shows, the foundation of the Midway, are being provided by the F. E. Gooding Amusement Co., as it has for half a century.

The other smaller concess ions which will make up the huge horseshoe will be privately owned and operated, but under the supervision of the Gooding Co.

Concession tents sprang up, trucks and trailer - homes rolled in and the skeletons of some of the rides were put together during the weekend.

A member of committee that negotiated for the Midway said the Fayette County Fair gets the best equipment available from the Good-

Mother of 3 Killed In Knifing Attack

CLEVELAND (AP)—A stabbing

OCTOPUS -- Looking just like an enormous creature out of the prehistoric era, the riding device aptly named the Octopus will be at the Fair next week. Its long steel tentacles seem to wriggle, squirm as it tosses its patrons high into the air, then lowers them swiftly to the ground all the time twirling around at a terrific rate of speed.

SCRAMBLER -- Coming to the Fair next week is the Scrambler and the ride is just what the name implies. Passengers get the sensation of being all scrambled with other patrons. Darting head on into another car, it swiftly darts out of the way at the last split second.

Kid Soap Box Driver Lets Big Brother Win

CLEVELAND (AP) — Charles

and can try again, had it planned that if he and his 14-year-old brother Michael landed in the same heat of the local Soap Box Derby here, he would let Mike win. Sunday they were in the finals together and Mike won by a large margin. Said Charles, "I kept my brakes on part way down the hill.
I wanted Mike to win."

and East Africa, have a stateroom in three planes which can be transformed quickly into a stateroom

ALWAYS POPULAR -- The Ferris wheel seems to be one of the most popular of all Midway rides. It will be at the Fair along with other thrilling and exciting rides. The Ferris wheel is liked by both children and adults.

Mr. Tony Capuana was in charge of arrangements.

Although Switzerland has long been known as a land that keeps out of wars, its mountain brigades train constantly. Trainees keep their guns in their own houses, so the Swiss mountain army can start moving for defense in less than 48 hours.

WOOD WORKERS - Articles for the farm and home, which have been made by a group of 4-H club boys, will be on display at the Fair. Two of them, typical of the others, are putting the finishing touches on a drawer for a cabinet under the watchful eyes of Robert Weeks, club advisor. The two young carpenters are George Fryer (left) and Tom Weeks.

Cattle Feeders Roundup Aug. 2

Fayette Countian To Moderate Panel

Robert C. Haigler, Fayette County farmer, Hereford breeder and president of Ohio Cattle Feeders Assn., will preside at the association's annual Summer Roundup and Barbecue Aug. 2 on the Wyandott County Fairground at Upper Sandusky and also serve as moderator for a panel discussion.

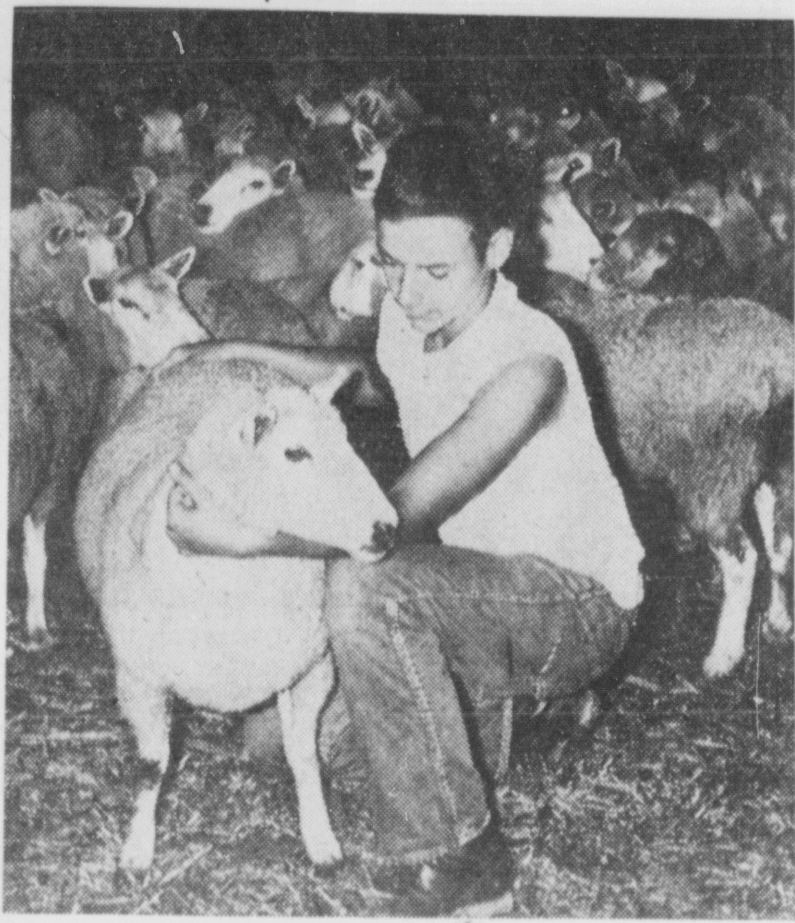

Tickets for the affair are available now from Haigler, Ray Creechbaum, Alfred J. Agler and the Extension Service office here.

Among the principal speakers at the Roundup will be three beef cattle authorities from other states. They are John H. Litzelman of Vermillion, S. D., president of the Corn Belt Cattle Feeders Assn.; Don Bartlett of Como, Miss., member of the American National Cattleman's Council, and Hart Jorgenson of Omaha, Neb., executive director of the Livestock Foundation of Omaha.

LITZELMAN will speak on "Problems Ahead for Cattle Feeders." Bartlett on "Development of Beef Cattle Production in the South," and Jorgenson on "Who Will Get the Profit in the Cattle Feeding Business Next Year?"

The three out-of-state speakers also will appear on a panel which will discuss factors influencing feeder cattle prices this fall, according to James H. Warner, association secretary and Ohio State University extension beef specialist. Ohio panelists will be R. N. Oetzel, Van Wert; Ray Creechbaum, Greenfield; Dwight Wise, Fremont; James Neer, Urbana; and Charles J. Betsch, Chillicothe.

Haigler will open the program at 10:30 a. m. with his president's address. Wyandott county cattlemen will have charge of the barbecue, scheduled for noon.

YOUNG SHEPHERD -- Sheep raising, being what it is in Fayette County, 78 boys and girls carried out lamb projects this year in the 4-H program. A typical young shepherd is Tom Rankin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Rankin, shown here with one of his Montadale ewes, which he probably will show at the Junior Fair. He is a member of the Wilson Wonders club.

Actor Recalls Experiences Among Genuine Headhunters

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — These days, a film actor has to be prepared to travel anywhere, even the headhunter country of the Philippines.

That's where Keith Andes went for a picture called "Blackburn's Guerrillas."

"It was originally called 'Blackburn's Headhunters,'" the actor explained, "but the Philippine government prevailed upon us to drop that title. They don't like to admit that there are any headhunters left in the islands."

"But there are. They were operating in the area where we were shooting the picture. I noticed a little item in the paper before we left that the natives had captured eight heads."

Fortunately, the natives were not restless while the film troupe was there, and Keith encountered no trouble.

"They don't capture heads indiscriminately," he explained. "They always do it with a purpose — when they have been wronged. They point out that we give medals for soldiers who kill people in war. Well, instead of medals, they collect more tangible evidence."

The picture is the true-life story of Lt. Don Blackburn, an American Army officer who headed for the hills after the Japanese conquest of the Philippines. He harassed the invaders until the liberation, amassing a force of 20,000 guerrillas. Now a colonel serving in South Viet Nam, Blackburn returned to his old haunts to watch the filming and received a hero's welcome.

The film project is an extreme example of the lengths actors will go to find movies in these times. The era of shooting pictures on comfortable Hollywood stages is fast fading.

"We did most of our shooting in the mountains 200 miles north of Manila," Andes said. "We had no electricity, no running water, no newspapers. The area was an hour and a half's jeep ride from the closest air strip."

The U. S. Air Force's F-106A is the world's fastest and highest flying all-weather jet interceptor. Its top speed has not been revealed. But, the B-58, another U. S. Air Force bomber, has a speed officially acknowledged as more than 1,300 miles per hour.

People . . . Places . . . and Things

Round about Fayette County

By B. E. KELLEY

I have mentioned before in this column about the few beautiful mimosa trees growing in the county. Apparently they grow just as well here, and are just as beautiful as they are in their native southland.

At the present time, and for several weeks yet one may see three of these beautiful trees growing on the back lawn of the Mrs. Charles Tharp homestead, North St., on the south side of the alley between East and Court Sts.

These trees are now approximately 10 years old, and were planted by Miss Grace Miller who obtained the seed from a friend in the south.

Another 4-year-old tree is on the lawn of Mrs. W. R. Hook's home on North St.

For mimosa trees have bipinnate leaves and the beautiful pink and white blooms are globular in shape and very fragrant.

The leaves greatly resemble those of the sensitive plant, which fold up quickly when touched, and the mimosas have a very similar characteristic. In some varieties at least the leaves fold up during darkness.

A small tree is located on the north lawn of the Carnegie Library here, and is blooming for the first time.

Another tree, blooming for the first time this year, is owned by Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Blakeman, 432 Clyburn Ave. It is 4 years old, Mrs. Blakeman received the seeds from a friend in North Carolina, and planted them. One limb of the tree is 15 feet in length.

Apparently the mimosas are greatly grown from seed, and because of their beauty, fragrance and attractiveness generally, I predict that a great many more of these ornaments will be growing in this area during the next few years.

Last year I saw thousands of the lovely trees in West Virginia and Virginia, and I have seen them scattered throughout the southern states during previous years.

GOING TO THE FAIR!

Used to be that to many thousands of people in this and adjoining counties, going to the Fayette County Fair was a matter of "life and death."

In other words usually nothing short of death prevented them from attending the exposition at least one day and a great many folks went day after day and remained until the "last dog was killed". This, being translated means until darkness fell over the festive scene. That was before night fairs were held.

I have seen persons who went shabbily dressed because they were too short of funds to buy better clothes, but they always scraped up enough money to go to the Fair and enjoy themselves. After all, who can get more out of a Fair than one who has little money to spend and who rarely goes anywhere.

The old time fairs were really a wonderful event, with nothing like them available at any other time of the year.

While many people now take the Fair as a matter of course and may not even attend, the Fayette County Fair is really a big event which stands alone as the only thing of its kind in the county each year. It is an event chockfull of things worth while.

In other words in this modern age, going to the Fair is still a red-letter day to the average person.

FORTY YEARS AGO

A great celebration was staged here when word came that the Americans and the French had broken the German lines in France and forced the Germans back across the Marne River.

The Old Fourth, of which M Company was a part, was in the thick of the fighting, and casualties were many.

The British also were exerting pressure upon the Germans, and the French and Americans were pocketing the Crown Prince's army which was fighting desperately to escape the encircling movement of the Allied forces.

American and French guns were dominating vital railroad and highway centers which were used by Germans, and were battering enemy retreat lines.

There were 1,200,000 Yanks in France and more were pouring in daily as the tide of battle turned.

Lee Rogers, near Bloomingburg, was using a small wheat separator, operated by tractor and capable of threshing 700 to 1,000 bushels daily. It was the first one in the county.

A German submarine was attacking and sinking coastwise craft off the New England shore. Twenty-three more Fayette men sent to Camp Sherman, and 61 men out of 80 examined were found physically fit for war service.

Former Sheriff Samuel O. Nelson died.

Allen Eyman, prominent farmer of Chillicothe Rd., died.

Two trainloads of selectees, en route to Camp Sherman for training, passed through the city.

F. H. Morse was operating the Murphy Print Shop over Ford's Hardware Store.

$8,700,000 Sought By Miami University

OXFORD, Ohio (AP) — Miami University wants to replace student boarding facilities and dining halls and has asked the Federal Home and Finance Agency for $8,700,000 to help pay for the projects.

H. C. Nichols of Batavia, chairman of Miami trustees, announced Sunday that tentative approval of the loan has been made.

Gets AEC Grant

WILMINGTON — Wilmington College officials announced the receipt of a grant of $6,703 from the Atomic Energy Commission for the establishment of a radio-isotope training program on the Quaker college campus. Terms of the grant will enable Wilmington College to acquire various items of equipment which are needed to present adequate and meaningful laboratory course work in nuclear technology as applied to life sciences.

June Real Estate Mortgages Involve Total of $499,775

Forty-six new mortgages totaling $499,775 were recorded in Fayette County during June, while 62 mortgages with a dollar value of $362,884.05 were released during that period.

New mortgages in May totaled $328,457, with mortgage releases totaling $293,528.

According to a report prepared by Mrs. Eloise Johnson, county recorder, the new mortgages in June included 37 on urban lots for a total of $219,425 and nine on 1,714.83 acres of farm land with a dollar value of $280,350.

Mortgages totaling $233,319.98 were released on 54 lots during June, and there were eight farm mortgage releases on 931.88 acres for a dollar total of $129,564.07.

Also recorded during the month were 388 chattel mortgages for a total of $321,031.06. The May chattel figure was $346,694.81.

Forty deeds on urban lots and eight on 1,895.63 acres of farm property were recorded during the month. There were two certificates of transfer involving urban property and three certificates of transfer on farm properties involving 318.06 acres.

A TOTAL of 19 oil leases and seven indentures were recorded in June.

The indentures included a 198-page bondholders' agreement between the General Telephone Co. and the National City Bank of Cleveland. The recording fee on this photostated document was $420.

During June, the recorder and her assistants completed a two-year task of indexing the thousands of leases filed in Fayette County since 1865. The big but time-saving index contains listings both by lessor and lessee.

Antwerp, situated 55 miles up the Scheldt River in Belgium, is one of the world's busiest seaports.

Dow Finsterwald Is PGA Champion

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer
HAVERTOWN, Pa. (AP)—Dow Finsterwald, a thoughtful and articulate young golf champion, doesn't think he's a great golfer or even an unusually good one.

As a result, he doesn't let it get him down when he finishes second or even lower in a tournament. He's probably the most relaxed player on the pro circuit.

"It feels very strange to be first," he said after winning the 40th Professional Golfers Assn. championship with four superb rounds of 67-72-70-67—276 over the tightly trapped Llanerch Country Club course.

"I don't feel that I played less conservatively. I feel as if I played much the same as I've always done."

Although he had every reason to go all out when he and Sammy Snead hooked up in a final-round duel, he insisted it wasn't boldness or gambling that won.

Close observers thought otherwise. To them Finsterwald appeared to be hitting out boldly, going for the greens and trying to sink every putt while Snead turned cautious.

Finsterwald, a 28-year-old graduate of Ohio University who has been on the pro circuit since 1951, was the runner-up to Lionel Hebert in the match play PGA Championship last year.

He went into Sunday's fourth round two strokes behind Snead and one behind Bill Casper.

Casper took second with a 278 total—the only man besides Finsterwald to break par for 72 holes at Llanerch—while Snead placed third with an even par 280. Jackie Burke, the 1956 PGA champ, came in fourth with 281, then there was a big gap to the 285s posted by National Open champion Tommy Bolt, Julius Boros and Jay Hebert. The defending champion, Lionel Hebert, wound up 15 strokes behind at 291.

The victory added $5,500 to Dow's bulging bankroll. He has won more than $35,000 in each of the past two years with only one tournament victory in each season. So far this year he has collected about $20,000.

Cincy Feels Brooks Loses His 'Touch'

CINCINNATI (AP) — Brooks Lawrence, who licked a siege of ulcers and came back to become the Cincinnati Reds' winningest pitcher two years ago, has apparently lost a little of his touch.

The St. Louis Cardinals knocked him out of the box in the fourth inning Sunday and went on to pick up a 3-1 decision.

It dropped the Reds into the National League cellar.

But it may be just another slow-starting season for Lawrence.

The bull-necked righthander ran into some bad breaks last season and at one time had an 11-11 record before finishing up with a 16-13 mark. Right now he is 6-7.

His trouble seems to come in spurts, like the quick tattoo of hits in the fourth inning of Sunday's game.

Stan Musial and Ken Boyer put the rally in motion with singles and Wally Moon batted in one run. Former Redleg Curt Flood singled in another marker and rookie Ruben Amaro walked to fill the bases. That ended the day for Lawrence.

But his successor, Tom Acker, was touched for a run-making single by Sad Sam Jones before he could shut off the inning.

The Cards did little at the plate thereafter, but they didn't need to with righthander Jones on hand. He weakened only once, when the Reds punched out a run in the fourth inning.

Ed Bailey doubled and Gus Bell doubled him home.

The Reds turn tonight to the Chicago Cubs for the start of a four-game series. Harvey Haddix was nominated to start for Cincinnati, opposing Dick Drott or Marceline Solis.

SWO Games All Rained Out

Rain brought the Southwestern Ohio (SWO) League to a standstill Sunday.

All four scheduled games were postponed according to Tom Smalley, manager of the Good Hope squad (formerly known as Washington C. H.) and league secretary.

Good Hope was to have played at Blanchester, Mt. Sterling at Milledgeville, Bloomington Monarchs at Chillicothe Reformatory and Greenfield at Chillicothe.

The standings of the team are: Good Hope (5-1); Chillicothe (6-2); Greenfield (4-2); Milledgeville (5-4); Bloomington (4-4); Reformatory (3-5); Blanchester (4-6); and Mt. Sterling (0-7).

Championship Game Postponed by Rain

The Flashes and the Realtors will have to wait one more day to decide the champion of the Little Major League.

They were supposed to play tonight for the first round championship, but Max Lawrence, commissioner, postponed the game on account of rain.

It will be played Tuesday night at Wilson Field at 7:30.

The second round of play in the Little Major League will get underway Wednesday night. The game that was slated for Tuesday night will be postponed to the end of the season.

Jim Bunning Hurls No-Hit, No-Run Game

Detroit Star Times
Bosox, Putting Gopher Ball High on Shelf

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
When Jim Bunning shelved the home run ball for the strikeout pitch, he was on the way back to his brilliant 1957 form.

Detroit's 20-game winner of a year ago pitched a no-hit, no-run game against Boston's sluggers at Fenway Park Sunday. Six weeks ago he couldn't get anybody out.

In his first 11 games Bunning allowed 11 homers. Then he went on his strikeout spree.

He fanned 12 Red Sox June 11, 14 New York Yankees June 20, 10 Yanks July 16 and 12 Red Sox in his no-bitter. His total of 108 strikeouts puts him ahead of New York's Bob Turley for the American League lead.

Despite Bunning's magic, Detroit lost ground in the chase of the Yankees as did every other club. The Tigers won behind Bunning 3-0 but lost the second game to Boston 5-2 as Ike Delock ran his amazing won-lost record to 10-0 and 13-0 over a two-year span.

Yogi Berra hit a two-run homer as the Yanks took two from Kansas City 3-1 and 8-0. As a result, New York leads the league by 11 games.

Roy Siever's ninth-inning homer in the second game aroused Washington fans to run around the bases with him, celebrating a 5-4 victory over Chicago. Dick Donovan's five-hit pitching gave the White Sox a 4-2 opening game decision.

Joe Ginsberg came through with a single with the bases loaded in the 10th inning for Baltimore's 3-2 edge over Cleveland. After Bob Boyd opened the 10th with a triple, Cleveland walked Gene Woodlin and Bob Nieman intentionally but Ginsberg crossed up the strategy with his winning hit. Arnold Portocarrero won his fifth straight, finishing up with 7 1-3 hitless innings.

In the National, San Francisco ran its winning streak to six with a 7-3 romp over Pittsburgh, clinging to a half-game lead. Warren Spahn won his 12th for Milwaukee, 4-2 over the Chicago Cubs.

Los Angeles finally escaped from the cellar with a 6-0 victory over Philadelphia on Johnny Podres' four-hitter. St. Louis dumped Cincinnati into last place as Sam Jones struck out 12 on the way to a 3-1 decision.

The big excitement was in Boston, where Bunning snapped a six-game Red Sox winning streak. He walked two and hit one. He faced only 30 batters.

Berra played right field for the Yanks in both games as he returned to the lineup after a layoff due to a hand injury. His homer rescued Enos Slaughter, who had singled for his fourth hit. Jerry Lumpe, a three-run homer made it easy for Ford, who gave up only five hits in winning his 12th.

Siever's big blow at Washington came off Early Wynn, who had just come out of the bullpen. Billy Goodman had four hits in the double-header to take over the batting lead at 337.

Jet Age Sulky Makes Debut

HAMBURG, N.Y. (AP)—A jet-age sulky has been introduced to harness racing.

Joe King, a rocket missiles designer, unveiled his creation, the first radically new sulky since 1892, at Buffalo Raceway Saturday.

Veteran horseman gazed in awe as driver Levi Harner worked out in a rig consisting of two small solid wheels, a cross bar and a single shaft connected to the horse's back.

The horse, Baldwin Hanover, stepped a half mile in 1:01, the best training performance of his career.

The rig weighs about the same as a conventional sulky and would cost about the same, King estimates.

Pairings Made For Champion Golf Tourney

Big Field of 96 Players Divided Into Six Flights

With the men's handicap tournament now approaching the finish, the annual golf championship tournament (to be played without benefit of handicaps) is now getting underway at the Country Club with 96 entrants.

Dr. Robert Hagerty is the defending champion.

Because of the big field and the wide variance in playing ability, the tournament will be played in six flights with 16 players comparable ability in each.

The top 32 players of the club have been placed in the championship flight, but the losers of the first matches automatically go into the first flight.

One of the two finalist in each of three flights of the handicap golf tournament at the Country Club were determined in matches that were sandwiched in between showers last week.

WCH Athletics Lose Game in Columbus

The Washington C. H. Athletics were limited to six hits as they were set back by Columbus Woods Plumbers, 9 to 2, in a Heart of Ohio baseball game at Columbus Sunday.

The Athletics were the only Fayette County team in action yesterday. The others (in SWO League) were all rained out. This was the only game played in the Heart of Ohio League.

Sharrett led the Athletics at the plate with two singles. The other four hits, all singles, were scattered.

Columbus picked up nine safeties all singles, from the two Washington C. H. hurlers, Peterson and Robinett.

Six misuses by the WCH boys added Columbus. The winners tallied six times in the third frame.

Each team can score a maximum of 8 points per match.

While tournaments—for both men and women—have held the center of interest at the Country Club recently, there has been plenty of golf for fun.

Rarely, if ever, have the fairways been so green and lush or the greens so smooth with such a good cushion, in mid-July. The rains get most of the credit.

Random Comments

BY RAY BRANDENBURG

Hereforders were the order of the day last Thursday at the Fair grounds. The Ohio Hereford Association annual barbecue, sponsored by the Fayette County Hereford Association was a grand success. Each year a judging contest under the supervision of 4-H and FFA advisers and open to the state of Ohio is held. The promotion has grown each year and Thursday we had seventy-one FFA teams and forty-four 4-H teams, plus a large number of individual entries, totaling almost five hundred boys and girls, from all over Ohio.

Congratulations to our Fayette County team of three girls: Carolyn Baker, Janet Kneisley and Donna Lou Rife who won third place, better watch out boys or those girls will show you up.

At noon a fine lunch of Hereford beef with the trimmings was served - and can those kids eat! I politely waited and waited for my turn, finally I asked one boy in line, "Is this your first time through?" He said "No my third." I said "Stand back I'm right ahead of you." After lunch a nice program was held, with Mr. Bud Putnam of Orleton Farms and president of the Ohio Hereford Association, presiding.

Short talks were given by one of the judges, Mr. Merritt, Geo. Wilson of Ohio State also gave some interesting comments.

Trophies were presented to the top teams and a scholarship to Ohio State was presented through the generosity of Mr. Fred Jones of Columbus, Ohio, to the first individual winners.

Mr. Bill Renier gave an optimistic talk on the beef cattle outlook. He stated there are 328,000 less beef cows and 600,000 less dairy cows in the U. S. than a year ago.

A calf creep donated by Webster C. French Manufacturing Co., was given away. The lucky winner was Al Hughes of Huntsville.

We, of both associations feel our barbecue contributes a lot to the future boys and girls success as beef producers and Hereford breeders.

Thanks to all who helped make this such a pleasant get together and now come out and get one of our new Chevys, or Buicks and attend the Fayette County Fair this week.

P. S.: I hope the weatherman cooperates.

Three Treated For Dog Bites

Girl Scout Leaders Plan for 1959 Camp

Mrs. Samuel Douds was hostess to the Girl Scout camp counselors for a hamburger fry and covered dish supper.

The supper was served cafeteria style from a long table on the lawn of the Douds' home.

After the supper hour an evaluation discussion was held on the recent camp program. Tentative plans and dates were discussed for next year and several committees were named.

The group voted to make a contribution to the Fish and Game Assn. for the privilege of using the lodge and grounds for the day camps. The association had offered the use of the area without charge. It was announced that there will be an all-day program Aug. 20 at Blendon Woods in Columbus.

At the meeting were Mrs. Nancy Jenkins, Jeffersonville; Miss Betty Hollenbaugh of Columbus, district director; Mrs. M. Grove Davis, Mrs. Harry Naylor, Mrs. Roy Coe Jr., Mrs. Sheldon Grubbs, Mrs. Richard Curl, Mrs. Robert Dempsey, Mrs. Robert Fries, Mrs. Margaret Woodson, Mrs. Dwight Foy and Mrs. Gus Bonner, of Washington C. ## Little New Seen In Warsaw Pact

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union today made public its latest proposals for a nonaggression treaty between the North Atlantic Alliance and the Soviet bloc's Warsaw Pact group. Basically there was little new.

The recommendations included reduction of foreign troops in Germany, a nuclear-free zone in central Europe and aerial surveys in central Europe to prevent surprise attacks. The new version of the proposal was contained in notes delivered to the big-power Western ambassadors in Moscow last Tuesday.

Nuclear Winds Dust Jap Ship

SYDNEY, Australia (AP)—Two small Japanese ships dusted by radioactive winds from the U. S. nuclear test area at Eniwetok were cleared today after exhaustive tests at Rabaul, New Guinea. Health authorities also cleared five seamen who feared they might have been dangerously contaminated.

The two ships were about 500 miles from the atomic test site a week ago when unexpected high winds from Eniwetok swept over them.

Newsman Abandon Beirut 'War Zone'

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP)—The Beirut office of The Associated Press has been moved away from the "war zone."

The telephone lines were dead early Sunday morning. Lebanese authorities said telephone linesmen refused to approach the office to make repairs because it was too close to an insurgent barricade.

Rebels are manning a sandbag barrier two blocks up the street within sight of the office front door. They occasionally fire down the street toward some government buildings.

So the office was moved into a quieter residential area.

Rain a Factor In 5 Traffic Accidents Here

Wet roads were blamed in part for the five area accidents over the weekend.

Four of the five accidents in the city and the county were on wet roads. Several of the cars were damaged slightly. Only one driver was given a traffic citation. No one was injured seriously.

Monday at 7:45 a. m. at the junction of Clinton, Leesburg and Highland Aves., David Harold Brown, 18, Cincinnati, was cited by city police for hitting the rear of a car driven by William Charles Seiter, South Fort Mitchell, Ky. Brown pleaded guilty in Municipal Court to the charge of failure to stop within assured clear distance. He was fined $25 and costs. Both cars were damaged. The Brown car was towed away.

In another Monday morning accident, Wayne E. Robinson, 18, of 518 Gibbs Ave., coming around a curve two-miles north of the city on Route 70 hit a slick spot and skidded into the guard rail, according to his report to Sheriff Orland Hays. The guard rail was not damaged. Robinson was not cited.

Swerving to avoid a youth on a bicycle was blamed for a collision Saturday at 3:50 p. m. according to the sheriff's department of cars driven by John Reed, 50, Jamestown, and Forrest E. Dawson, 46, of 631 E. Paint St. There was minor damage to the Pennington delivery truck driven by Dawson. Charles Boysel, the youth on the bicycle did not come in contact with either vehicle.

Lee S. Putnam, 79, Frankfort, backed into a parked car owned by Deputy Sheriff Donald Thompson, 26, Route 5, on Anderson's Park Sunday at 12:40 p. m. There was minor damage to the left front door of Thompson's car. Putnam was not cited.

James J. Campbell, 22, Route 2, and Mary Jane Lininger, 47, of 318 E. Market St. were driving cars involved in an accident at 3:08 p. m. Sunday at the Market-North St. intersection. There was minor damage to both cars. Neither driver was cited.

Tyree Still in Jail On Mail Theft Charge

Ronald L. Tyree, 26, Jeffersonville, is still in jail in Columbus awaiting the date to be set for his hearing on a charge of stealing money from the mail here, according to John Lyter, clerk of the Federal District Court in Columbus.

Tyree appeared before Lyter, on July 11 for a preliminary hearing. At that time he waived preliminary hearing and $2,500 bond was set.

"Criminal day," when Tyree's case probably will be taken up, usually is held about every two weeks. The date will be set by Federal Judge Mell G. Underwood, depending upon the number of people in custody that require a hearing, according to Lyter. At this time Tyree can ask to have his case go before a federal grand jury, or he can waive the grand jury and an information will be returned against him by the district attorney, Lyter explained.

On "Criminal Day" Tyree will be asked to enter a plea. He is now being held on a commissioner's charge. Tyree is accused of stealing money from the mails while employed at the Post Office in Washington C. H. as temporary custodian.

He was arrested July 10 here by federal postal inspectors.

Commercial Travelers Honor WCH Veteran

JAMES HINTON HENDRYX cuts his birthday cake--his ninetieth--at a surprise party held for him Sunday afternoon at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Elizabeth H. Devins, 514 East St. The party was given by members of the United Commercial Travelers of which Hendryx is a 50-year member.

Although his birthday anniversary is not until tomorrow, James Hinton Hendryx, had his celebration Sunday—a surprise affair sponsored by 30 members of the United Commercial Travelers organization.

Mr. Hendryx will be 90 Tuesday, and he was also honored by the UCT for his more than 50 years as a member of the organization. UCT members and their wives from all over Ohio, held the party at the home of Mr. Hendryx's only daughter, Mrs. Elizabeth H. Devins, 514 East St.

Those attending the party were officers either of the Supreme Council or UCT Council No. 1, Columbus. Also present were officers of the UCT Women's Auxiliary.

Mr. Hendryx, who has been a member of UCT since June 29, 1903, was given a framed gold leaf 50-year plaque by the grand counselor, Harry Horn. The plaque was signed by Willard H. Parks, UCT supreme counselor.

He also received a knife with a gold case and a gold tie clasp bearing the UCT emblem as well as a gold paid-up-in-full lifetime membership card. A roll of colored film was taken and presented to Mrs. Devins.

A COVERED DISH dinner prepared by the UCT members was a feature of the party. A large birthday cake was decorated with the UCT emblem, happy birthday and Mr. Hendryx's name and age.

After the dinner, 12 UCT members and their families from Washington C. H. dropped in for coffee and cake. Mr. Hendryx is the oldest UCT member living here.

Leland Murri, grand chaplain of UCT, gave the invocation before the meal. Mrs. Harry Horn poured the coffee. The affair was planned by Mrs. Don Sweazy, president of the UCT Women's Club, and Harry Horn, grand counselor.

Additional guests at the party were Mr. Hendryx's nephew, Ross Cole, Jr., his wife and two children.

Appeal Notices Filed in Two Fayette Cases

Defendants in two suits decided for the plaintiffs in Common Pleas Court have filed notice of appeal to the Second District Appellate Court.

One of the actions involves quieting of title to a section of an alleyway between Oakland and Van Deman Aves. and was brought by Luther E. Sexton, Robert S. Sanderson and Donald E. Wood and their wives against John D. Carr, et al.

Carr had sought to have the alley opened to the public, but Judge John P. Case ruled for the plaintiffs on grounds that they had had uninterrupted possession of the land for more than 21 years.

Carr, whose petition to open the alley had been rejected by City Council, held that vacation would be detrimental to his business and to the public interest. He has now appealed the lower court's decision for the plaintiffs.

NOTICE OF APPEAL also has been filed by Gladys Shough, as an individual and as executor of the estate of Cleveland W. Shough, following the court's dismissal of the defendant's answer and the upholding of plaintiff's demurrer in the case of Frank L. Green vs. Cleveland W. Shough et al.

Green had asked the court for partition of 104.89 acres of land in Paint Township in which he claimed a half interest.

Both appeals are on questions of law.

New Non-Rigid Airship Tested

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—The largest non-rigid airship ever built, the ZPG-3W constructed for the U. S. Navy by Goodyear Aircraft Corp., made its initial test flight over the Akron area today.

Airborne at 8:30 a. m., the ZPG-3W was expected to stay aloft four to five hours. Aboard was a crew of civilian technicians and engineers checking performance. Normally the ship will carry a navy crew of 21 to 23 men.

Security restriction prevents disclosure of the big ship's actual dimensions, but the ZPG-3W is reportedly 50 per cent larger than the ZPG-2, which had a gas bag with a capacity for a million cubic feet of helium, the non-explosive and non-flammable gas now used in all such airships.
